ON THE COVER: THE SECRETARY'S POINT BY A. LOMBARDO

ON THE SIDE OF THE PALESTINIAN PEOPLE

The oppressed peoples are awakening. from africa to asia to latin america, there is a ferment of anti-imperialism. for 75 years, the palestinian people have endured an illegal occupation and oppression, condemned countless times by the un security council, only to be vetoed by the us, rendering international diplomacy impotent. today, occupied palestine descends into tragedy once again, with the palestinian uprising, while only that fifth of the world under us dominion watches with hostility. the rest of the world holds its breath.

Netanyahu's criminal government, the target of powerful dissent within his own country and lacking democratic support, may seize this opportunity to push the region, and perhaps the entire world, to the brink of total war. historically and objectively, the responsibility for this falls squarely on american imperialism and its zionist supporters.

Today, just as in the past, the communist party supports the rights of the palestinian people, their right to struggle, to existence, and to recognition of their nation.

HOW TO GET OUT OF WORLD WAR III

A few days ago, the President of the Italian Republic, Sergio Mattarella, stated: “If Ukraine were to fall, we would witness a drift towards aggression against other countries on the borders with Russia, which - as happened in the last century between '38 and '39 - would lead to a general and devastating conflict”.

In essence, if we stop supporting Ukraine, Mattarella suggests that the Third World War could erupt, drawing a parallel between Putin and Hitler. In truth, for years, we have been servants of NATO. This became apparent at least during the time of the D'Alema government (of which Mattarella was Vice President) during the first war (Yugoslavia 1999), where Italy disregarded international law and Article 11 of our Constitution. Expecting an impartial position is the illusion of those unaware of the compromised nature of the current institutional framework. The “general and devastating conflict” has been ongoing for some time. Although we haven't yet seen armed conflict, fortunately, World War has been in progress for years, and it's the result not of a process of Russian imperialist expansionism but of active resistance by the peoples of the “Third World” who are rising up today. An example of this is what's happening in Israel, a strategic outpost of the West in the Middle East since 1948. War has been endemic in this land since then. The end of World War II didn't bring about peace but an imperialist war that took various forms: the international one within the geopolitical struggle between the communist movement and its allies (including the Palestinians) and the Western imperialist bloc; the classic colonial one by the Zionist, nationalist, racist regime (complete with segregation) of Israel; and the class oppression that affects most of the Palestinian people, like all other peoples worldwide still subject to capitalist regimes. Such a permanent war doesn't only concern Palestine but the entire world. Preve was right in talking about the Third World War even during the Cold War period. In a broader perspective, the historical phase we are experiencing resembles the scenario of the 1980s when the USA supported Islamic fundamentalists like Bin Laden but in an anti-Soviet function. Today, they support Ukrainian neo-Nazis in an anti-Russian function, but in reality, they haven't lost the habit of supporting Islamic terrorism (e.g., ISIS in Syria and Libya). So, after two decades (1991-2011) during which Western imperialism bombed and destabilized the “Third World” at its whim, the Russian response came with legitimate support for Assad in Syria. The Western-backed coup in Ukraine (2013-14) is also an overt act of war. Behind Russia stands China, and behind China is a different form of globalization, friendly rather than antagonistic to the peoples. If Ukraine were to fall, we shouldn't fear further Russian “invasions”. It is much more likely that future political, social, and military crises will be artificially constructed by Western imperialism to try to halt its own decline. It is our responsibility to prevent this from happening. The Meloni government is subservient to Washington and Brussels, but so are the parliamentary oppositions. Those who talk about “more Europe” miss the fundamental point of the imperialist nature, and hence the irreformability (also technically) of this European Union, created in organic connection with NATO and organizations like the Bilderberg Group. An Europe independent of America and peaceful is a chimera. It is more realistic to work towards an Italy that is not only out of war but also free and independent from NATO and the EU. This is the necessary premise for discussing any further program.

ITALY

ITALY IS MILITARILY AT WAR

Italy is actively at war alongside NATO in supporting the dictator Zelensky. All the words spoken by our media and the Meloni government about our role being merely “aid” are blatantly false. Italy has been at war since it started sending weapons and money to fund and perpetuate this war. From Sigonella, NATO drones take flight to support Ukrainian attacks. Until today, when two Italian Air Force F-35s intercepted two Russian fighters near the Polish border, escorting them away from NATO airspace. If Italy were not at war, there would be no Italian F-35s, with Italian pilots on board, patrolling NATO skies and the Ukrainian border. Bourgeois governments continue to deceive the people, exploiting their consent on peripheral issues, along with all the media that fuel polarization, constantly omitting, censoring, and manipulating reality.

SALARY DISASTER: CONFINDUSTRIA REJOICES ALONGSIDE THE COMPLICIT GOVERNMENT

Italian citizens' purchasing power has dropped by 22% in 2022 (source: Mediobanca's Area Studies), due to inflation and increasingly poverty-level wages, in contrast to large corporations, which have seen a 26.2% increase in wealth. Italian workers are becoming poorer due to the policies pursued by bourgeois governments. Meloni has decided to place every resource in the hands of the USA and NATO to continue the war in Ukraine. Confindustria continues to pursue its own interests, harming workers and exacerbating economic and social disparities within the population. To address this crisis, salaries should increase by more than 20% to keep the population "poor" as they were last year and prevent many more from falling into poverty in the short term. Our rulers have never been concerned about the fate of the people, and these data are a clear example of that.

ITALIANS ARE INCREASINGLY BURDENED, WITH SOARING BILLS EXPECTED THIS AUTUMN

After fuel prices soared to over 2 euros per liter, the faux-sovereign bourgeois government is now announcing new increases in electricity (+12%) and gas bills (+9%) starting in October. In practical terms, this means that the annual bill for a typical family in the protected market, currently at 77 euros, will rise to 721 euros, assuming constant prices for a year. As for gas, a 9% increase would send the bill skyrocketing from 114 euros to 1381 euros. Tall of this is happening at a time when, due to nearly double-digit inflation (caused by the war fueled by these servants of American masters), the purchasing power of Italians has been reduced by 22%, while wages are becoming lower and more precarious. This is a government serving the interests of large multinational corporations and international financial institutions. It is a government that follows in the footsteps of its predecessors, progressively impoverishing the country under the dictates of Brussels and Washington.

THEY'RE ALL FACES OF THE SAME COIN!
MIGRANTS: IF YOU PAY, YOU ENTER ITALY.

The new proposal of yet another bourgeois government subservient to capital and the EU of banks and finance is to put a price on the lives of migrants. Only those who can pay 5,000 euros will be allowed to enter our country, bypassing checks and reception centers for asylum determination. These are additional funds that a migrant pays after already risking their life to secure a spot on a perilous journey. Those who still have money at their disposal can bypass all checks and “cut the line”, entering Italy directly, even if they don't meet the right criteria for asylum. It's selection at the entrance based on the only principle that bourgeois governments seem to understand, money. And it won't apply only to migrants; it will become the rule for the exercise of any right, transformed into a paid concession.

ASKING THE POWER TO REFORM THE POWER, WHAT NAIVETY!

In these days, the Basilicata Federation of the Communist Party has been distributing leaflets in front of the Stellantis plant in Melfi, as in front of many other companies throughout Italy, to reaffirm our stance on labor issues and the strike on the 7th.

On October 7th in Rome, the confederal and conciliatory trade unions will take to the streets, focusing on issues related to taxes, the flat tax, and tax evasion. However, it is often seen as more of a symbolic parade, with subtle political approval from the Single Liberal Party. Unfortunately, for too many years, these unions have primarily looked out for their own interests rather than those of the workers. Some argue that it's essential to move away from this collaborative approach and return to a more confrontational stance. It's crucial for workers within these organizations to fight against the moderation that these unions often display, as they may not genuinely advocate for higher wages and workers' rights. There's a call for fighting for an inter-category minimum wage of at least €12, with regular adjustments based on real inflation using mechanisms like the Mobile Scale. There's also a desire to eliminate all precarious contracts and allow retirement at 60 years of age or after 40 years of contributions. Some advocate for a true class-based union that unites all workers, as opposed to one that primarily serves the interests of union leaders. The message to workers is that collaboration often means walking hand in hand with the employer. ONLY STRUGGLE PAYS!

THE VENPA OVERPASS KILLS IN BLACK AND WHITE

Image source Tgcom24.

The massacre on the Venpa overpass in Mestre was only a matter of time.

That overpass, dating back to the 1950s, was built in conjunction with the project for the creation of the large chemical complex in Marghera and was, for that time, certainly of great and innovative urban impact.

The dimensions were designed to last many years, but certainly not for over 70 years without the necessary modifications.

This overpass, already anomalous due to the presence (perhaps a unique case on Italian roads) of a traffic light right in the middle of its path, serving as a divider between those heading to the bypass (always with a green light 24/7) and those heading to Marghera, had elements of serious precariousness for years. The main overpass, on its left, includes the junction (hence the reason for its traffic light) of a second overpass coming directly from Corso del Popolo in Mestre. This allows vehicles not only to go to Marghera but also to merge onto the main stretch leading to the bypass, strictly positioning themselves in the passing lane since the driving lane of the main overpass, as mentioned earlier, always has the right of way.

This anomaly shamefully persisted even with the traffic conditions of 2023 and the size of public transport vehicles, which are certainly not the same as those from the 1950s.

In 2017, a large part of the parapet was cordoned off due to a collapse of the railing and the concrete structure on which it was placed, as documented in an article published on August 21 of that year in Venezia Today.

On April 25, 2021, as reported in another article in Il Gazzettino, motorists reported obvious signs of dangerous deterioration. The entire structure, including the road surface, the protective guardrail, and the retaining parapets, had been left in a state of total neglect. Here is an excerpt, in quotation marks, from what was stated at the time by councilor Renato Boraso of Mayor Brugnarò's administration (who is still the mayor of Venice):

“We oversee the entire structure, although in reality, only a portion belongs to the Municipality, while the rest falls under the jurisdiction of Anas and Cav, Venetian Motorway Concessions. It's a structure dating back to various periods of the twentieth century and has become increasingly critical for urban traffic... and the deterioration in less visible areas is evident”.

An allocation of up to 15 million euros is even anticipated for its reconstruction. However, on the most urgent and immediate issue, where only words have been heard so far (“...the deterioration in less visible areas is evident...”), there has been no action whatsoever.

On October 3, 2023, the tragedy struck: a bus with 36 people on board plunged from the viaduct without any apparent support from the safety barriers, as is evident from an article and video published in Il Gazzettino on the day after the tragedy (October 4) and confirmed by the newspapers La Nuova Venezia and Open on October 5.

The flames and the fire, unleashed by the electric bus so beloved by “climate advocates”, completed the horror, just like in a horror movie. The tragic outcome was 21 deaths and 15 injured (5 of whom were in serious condition).

CAPITALISM

Words of condolences will be spoken, there will be appearances by ministers and undersecretaries, Mayor Brugnarò's worn-out rhetoric will have a powerful megaphone, and television talk shows discussing nothing will flood our screens, and so on...

While our television viewers were passionately following the search for 4 billionaires and a pilot lost in the waters of the Atlantic Ocean inside an “ultra-exclusive submarine” for weeks last June, having nothing better to do than search for the wreckage of the Titanic, today the lives of 21 humble campers in a modest campsite in the suburbs of Mestre have been cut short by the utmost indifference.

While the mobilization of teledioti paints itself green, ordinary people continue to die in black and white.

Editorial Comment

To this perfect technical analysis by Paolo Mencarelli, we add a political observation: there is money for war but not for fixing essential infrastructure for society.

It's yet another failure of the Meloni government and bourgeois management as a whole.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS, WAR, IMPERIALISM

NATO BEYOND SHAME

The pro-NATO Western propaganda goes beyond shame. Rob Bauer, Chief of the NATO Military Committee, openly admits:

“NATO began preparations to confront the Russian Federation 14 years before the Special Military Operation. NATO has written 4,500 pages of its military plans to counter the Russian Federation”.

No shame, no attempt to hide the truth, because they know that all the information is out there. Education in the West (especially in Italy) is controlled and manipulated, so the general public will never become aware of such news through mainstream media, which still leads citizens to believe that it was Russia that initiated the Special Operation in Ukraine. No surprise for those who view things from a class perspective – one where the ruling class, politics in the service of the bourgeoisie and financial aristocracy, is pitted against the emancipation of peoples. The people themselves are often used as cannon fodder to pursue objectives that serve the interests of a few.

ZELENSKIJ ALSO WANTS TO ATTACK SYRIA AND IRAN AND DRAG THE WORLD INTO THE THIRD WORLD WAR

The USA and NATO are seeking to provoke conflicts and destabilizations in countries immediately adjacent to the interests of the old world's peoples, in order to isolate them and force Europe into the unnatural sphere of U.S. influence. Zelensky is ready to attack Iran and Syria if the West provides him with the necessary means, after Kiev reported to the USA and its allies that companies from these states are supplying weapons and components to Russia. Kiev is urging its allies to target industries in Russia's allied countries and to destroy the reported Iranian companies. Given the reluctance of many NATO countries to bomb Iran and Syria, Zelensky has offered to do it by proxy if provided with long-range ATACMS missiles to scrap. After faking Russian attacks in Poland and Romania to involve NATO countries (which turned out to be Ukrainian anti-aircraft missiles), Zelensky is acting on behalf of NATO countries committed to preserving their warlike innocence, and directly threatens other countries allied to Russia that are participating in the conflict between the two blocs in Ukraine. Meanwhile, the ongoing de-dollarization is being offset by a dangerous de-euroization, which is a demonstration of the true objective of this war.

ZELENSKIJ VUOLE ATTACCARE ANCHE LA SIRIA E L'IRAN E TRASCINARE IL MONDO NELLA TERZA GUERRA MONDIALE

Iranian kamikaze drones used in the latest attacks on Ukrainian cities are filled with European components, according to a secret document sent by Kyiv to its western allies in which it appeals for long-range missiles to attack production sites in Russia, Iran and Syria.

DISSENT GROWS. IN SLOVAKIA, THE WAR FRONT IS CRUMBLING

In Slovakia, the social democratic party led by Robert Fico won, in part, thanks to an electoral campaign based on rejecting the diktats imposed by the USA and NATO. Fico is in favor of stopping arms to Kiev and against Ukraine's accession to NATO. He is also highly critical of EU policies and has stated that he will ignore the international arrest warrant against Putin. Naturally, we await his actions to see how he follows through on these positions, as we should avoid blindly supporting sociocultural and polarizing narratives aligned with the financial bourgeoisie. In Italy, Atlanticist propaganda continues to censor anything that does not align with the interests of the financial aristocracy, such as the “Referendum Ripudia la Guerra” (Referendum Rejects War). However, it is evident that the Western slice of influence is narrowing, and the multipolar world today represents an El Dorado that could bring unexpected upheavals, especially from the ruling classes of those marginal countries that have nothing to gain from Europe's submission to Washington's wishes.

DEMOCRACY ONLY WORKS WHEN THEY WIN

Recently, elections took place in Slovakia, where candidate Robert Fico won, in part, due to his positions opposing NATO and EU diktats. During his election campaign, Robert Fico criticized aid to Zelensky, promising to stop it as soon as he won the elections, and also spoke out against the EU sanctions imposed on Russia. Immediately after the elections, the European Commission intervened, stating that parliamentary elections in Slovakia took place under “unprecedented conditions of disinformation”, even suggesting the possibility of fraud. For the European Union, it is impossible to accept the defeat of its pro-NATO and pro-EU candidate against a candidate who has chosen the path of an independent foreign policy, free from the obligation to send arms to the dictator Zelensky and the pressure of sanctions against Russia. They have immediately begun to attack him by any means, even refusing to recognize the election results, in an effort to remove him from power. In the West, democracy only seems to work when their preferred candidates win.

THE USA SINKS INTO ECONOMIC WARFARE ON MICROCHIPS AGAINST CHINA

China, after introducing new export control measures for gallium and germanium, effectively halted exports of processed products containing these two metals in August (excluding triangulation with third countries). This measure is in response to the US policy of prohibiting the sale of “chip-making equipment”.

In essence, if the USA aimed to slow down Chinese industrial development by blocking access to specialized production equipment, Beijing is returning the favor by cutting off the main supplier of two essential raw materials for integrated circuit production. This is the modus operandi of the USA: impose sanctions and embargoes to destroy and subjugate an entire people. However, these measures, thanks in part to the multipolar order detached from US dominance, increasingly risk backfiring against the instigator. It's essential to remember that these measures can also harm the peoples of the Western bloc, including us.

MORE TENSIONS IN KOSOVO AGAINST SERBIAN CITIZENS

Tensions and clashes against Serbian citizens continue in Kosovo. Since the morning of September 24, the northern part of Kosovo and Metohija has been occupied by “special forces” that block roads, inspect Serbian cars, and prevent the passage of ambulances. The Banjska Monastery, where a group of pilgrims from Novi Sad had taken refuge following a shootout between Kosovars and unknown individuals, is now occupied by “Kosovo special forces”. The Albanian side claims that a policeman was killed and two others were injured. The shooting began after an attempt to stop two unlicensed trucks that had allegedly entered the province illegally, violating the ban on Serbian products.

FREE KHALED! ANOTHER CRIME OF THE ISRAELI REGIME.

On August 31st, Khaled El Qaisi, a researcher in Eastern Language and Civilization at La Sapienza University in Rome, was arrested by Israeli security services in the West Bank. This is not an isolated incident but part of a systematic policy carried out by the Israeli occupation regime. There is a fear that Khaled may face administrative detention, which allows for indefinite detention without trial for security reasons. In addition to being a researcher, Khaled is a political and cultural activist committed to disseminating Palestinian history. The silence that this incident has received in the media and in official statements from the Italian government, which is only now beginning to address it, is a sign of embarrassing double standards. What if it had happened in Venezuela or Cuba?

The Communist Party, along with the Federation of Communist Youth, strongly condemns Khaled's arrest and calls for his immediate release. Free Palestine!

LET'S HELP THEM AT THEIR HOMES: SUPPORT AFRICAN SOVEREIGNTY!

In recent days, French President Macron has decided to withdraw both the diplomatic corps and the entire military contingent of about 1,500 soldiers from Niger, who were in the Sahel region for “anti-jihadist deployment”. In practice, France was forced to make this decision due to the military junta that deposed the elected Nigerien president, Mohamed Bazoum, on July 26th, a president Macron had previously referred to as “central to intervention and military cooperation in the Sahel”. At the end of August, Niger's military leaders had imposed a 48-hour ultimatum on the French ambassador to leave the country (after his refusal to meet with the new foreign minister appointed by the coup leaders).

Macron had initially opposed this move, stating that he did not recognize the military regime as legitimate. However, after a month-long siege of the French embassy in Niamey, which was completely isolated without receiving any supplies and had no internet access, the French were forced to relent. The Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), which had threatened military intervention to reinstall Bazoum immediately after the coup, did not play a decisive role. Macron's statement, “This is the end of our cooperation; we are not here to be held hostage by coup leaders”, can be seen as a further anti-colonial victory.

Francafrrique is a colonial legacy from which the people of Sub-Saharan Africa are freeing themselves. And it is a posthumous victory for those African leaders like Thomas Sankara who died in the patriotic struggle to liberate their people from the neocolonial yoke.

CHRONICLES FROM "LIBERAL" TOTALITARIANISM

FREEDOM OF PRESS ENDS IN EUROPE

The European Parliament has approved the European Media Freedom Act (EMFA), the EU law on media freedom, transparency, and plurality, which contains a highly controversial article that effectively legalizes the practice of spying on journalists: EMFA allows the installation of spyware on journalists' phones for the sake of 'national security' and forces journalists to disclose the identity of their sources. All of this is meant to 'ensure media plurality and protect it from political, governmental, and economic interference' (as stated in Article 4). This is a tombstone for press freedom, which already places our country in a very critical position, behind Montenegro, Argentina, and North Macedonia, thanks also to the disinformation and propaganda that our media inundate us with every day. This is the true face of European capitalism and all the bourgeois consortia of the countries that take part in it.

ITALY FIRST IN EUROPE FOR CENSORSHIP AND REPRESSION

Because of Open's fact-checkers, Mentana and Bechis' fact-checking project, led by Puente and other ambiguous figures, have removed over 45,000 posts and news in just six months in our country, continually censoring or manipulating real news. This demonstrates unwavering loyalty to the USA, EU, and NATO. It should come as no surprise. One-sided censorship silences anything that is not in line with the single thought of financial capitalism. It is materially produced by Open, as Mentana, who has relayed many FALSE true news, has now become well known to us all.

NOBEL PRIZE IN MEDICINE AWARDED TO PHARMACEUTICAL MULTINATIONALS

Even the Nobel Prize in Medicine becomes a farce when awarded to those collaborating with big pharmaceutical multinational corporations. The Nobel Prize in Medicine is decided by the Karolinska Institute in Sweden, where Kenneth Chien, the founder of Moderna, works. In fact, two researchers who laid the groundwork for mRNA COVID-19 vaccines (used by Pfizer and Moderna, a company specifically created for mRNA technology development) won the Nobel. Furthermore, among the financiers of the Karolinska Institute are billionaires like Bill Gates, Zuckerberg, and the Wallenbergs, investors of the WEF (World Economic Forum), who, along with Bill Gates, created GAVI (Global Alliance for Vaccines).

ANOTHER 1.5 BILLION TO ZELENSKY

The European Commission will send an additional 1.5 billion euros to support the dictator Zelensky in continuing this war. This is in addition to the other 13 billion euros that have already been allocated during this year. Meanwhile, all of Europe is sinking deeper into an economic and social crisis from which it will be difficult to recover. Prices for essential goods, transportation, and fuel are rising, further impoverishing the people. Just look at our country, where Italian families have lost over 20% of their purchasing power this year, and utility bills will start going up again from October. The EU seems intent on funding this war at the expense of its own citizens, cutting healthcare, pensions, public transportation, and welfare, all to appease the USA and NATO. So, 13 billion euros is the annual sum that Ursula von der Leyen makes available to Zelensky and his neo-Nazi battalions to finance their weapons and continue this war, taking the funds directly from their own citizens, who will soon face new dictates for more 'blood and tears' reforms.

We must exit the European Union, stop financing Ukraine, and resume normal relations with Russia. For peace and for the well-being of our people.

STANDING OVATION IN CANADA FOR THE CRIMINAL ZELENSKY

The Italian media omitted the news that scandalized almost the entire world, which was the honoring of a Ukrainian Nazi SS veteran in the Canadian parliament, in the presence of Trudeau and Zelensky. RAI reported the mere gossip, leaving out the definitive rehabilitation of Nazi-fascism in Canada, risking its spread throughout the West, as is happening now. This operation is facilitated by portraying Nazism as a new form of resistance against the 'supposed' Russian enemy, and probably tomorrow, the Chinese enemy. Italian media were too engrossed in other topics that only divide the population into opposing sides, offering an outlet, favoring one master over another, and protecting the ruling class from the risk of delegitimization. They omitted the news of Nazi rehabilitation to avoid contradictions with armchair antifascists (servants of those who are arming the real ones today) who secure political gains through opportunistic anti-fascism.

CANADA, GLOBAL SHAME

The entire Canadian Parliament, in the presence of President Trudeau, paid tribute to Jaroslav Hunka, the 98-year-old Ukrainian Nazi who served in “1st Division of the Ukrainian Waffen-SS Galicia”. The Canadian government and media attempted to rectify the situation by claiming that they were unaware that the soldier in question was a Nazi but rather a soldier who had “only” fought against the Russians. This is a complete historical revisionism. Canada, like the entire Western world subservient to American imperialism, is a country that pays tribute to, supports, and finances Nazis, both old and new, including their leadership.

PRESIDENT TRUDEAU AND ALL THE PARLIAMENTARIANS SHOULD SIMPLY RESIGN
But they won't because Western bourgeois pseudo-democracies are inherently Nazi-fascist. They just pretend to be democratic. And today, they control everything.

PARTY AND DEMOCRAZIA SOVRANA POPOLARE

The outcome of the upcoming regional elections in Trentino and the by-elections for the Senate seat in Brianza is very important. Today, it is crucial for the strengthening of an anti-imperialist front against NATO and the EU to achieve a good result for the Popular Sovereign Democracy in both of these events.

SEPTEMBER 27, 1960 – FIDEL CASTRO'S SPEECH TO THE UN

Oggi è il 63° anniversario del discorso di Fidel Castro all'ONU nel 1960, durato ben 5 ore.

Today marks the 63rd anniversary of Fidel Castro's speech at the United Nations in 1960, which lasted a remarkable 5 hours.

Cuban President Díaz-Canel has commemorated this historic speech, reaffirming the significant historical impact it had on the United Nations. Fidel Castro's address, his first before the United Nations, was indeed one of the longest, most forceful, and critical speeches against the philosophy of war and Western capitalism. The denunciation of numerous illegal actions by the United States government against the Cuban Revolution and its use of force through the growing arms race were central points of that speech, which garnered repeated ovations and applause. "The Cuban Revolution lived through those words... that was our opportunity to tell the truth", said the current Cuban president today.

30 YEARS SINCE THE TRAGIC AND FORGOTTEN DAYS OF MOSCOW (OCTOBER 2-4, 1993)

The days between October 2 and 4, 1993 shook the entire Russia which was in a deep economic crisis triggered by the capitalism it had recently adopted under the leadership of Boris Yeltsin, who was seen as a representative of the USA. On October 4, in response to the protests and revolts by the Russian people and the Russian parliament, which had deposed him, Yeltsin ordered an army unit with tanks to attack the Russian White House, the seat of the parliament, where armed members of the opposition had taken refuge. Even today, the exact number of casualties from those days remains unknown, with estimates ranging from 200 to 800 deaths, depending on the sources. These casualties included defenders of the parliament who fell to government-aligned snipers, led by Yeltsin, and those who had revolted against him in an attempt to overturn the capitalist system that had been imposed and initiated by Gorbachev through the dismantling of the USSR and continued by the USA-backed Boris Yeltsin. After 30 years, we do not forget.

30 SETTEMBRE 1977 - REMEMBERING COMRADE WALTER ROSSI

he murder of Walter Rossi on September 30, 1977, was the culmination of a series of fascist attacks in the days leading up to it.

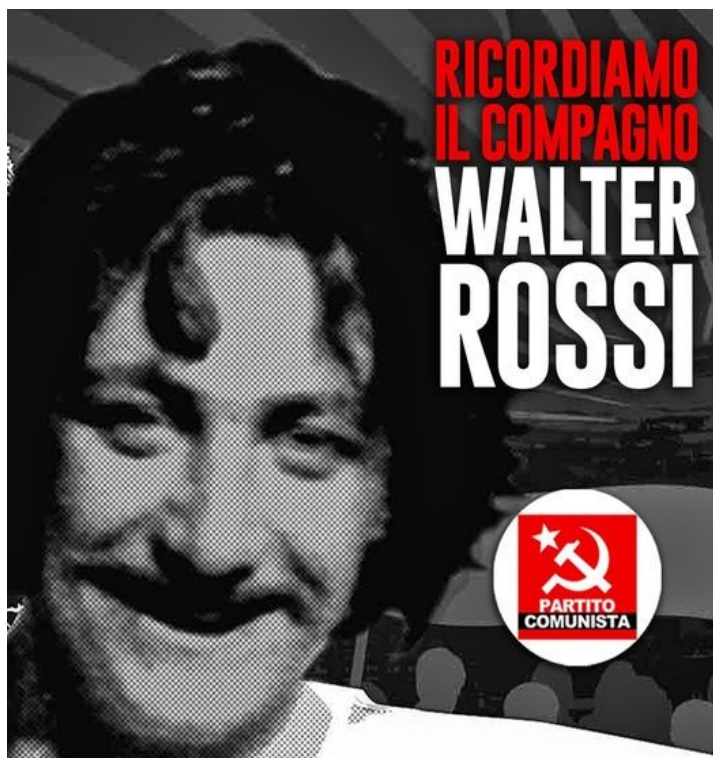

After the injuries of Paola Cavignani and Elena Pacinelli (19 years old), who died shortly after, we come to September 30. A group of antifascists were distributing flyers in Piazzale degli Eroi and via delle Medaglie d'Oro to denounce the fascist attacks of the previous days. However, they avoided getting close to the local MSI (Italian Social Movement) section, as the area was controlled by numerous plainclothes police officers.

News of a new attack reached them, and they formed another protest. At that moment, around forty fascists came out of the MSI section, throwing rocks and bottles before retreating to their headquarters. Shortly after, a police armored vehicle slowly descended from via delle Medaglie d'Oro towards Piazzale degli Eroi. However, hidden behind it was a group of fascists. Two of them broke away, knelt down, took aim, and fired three gunshots. One of these shots struck and killed Walter Rossi, a 20-year-old activist from Lotta Continua.

Despite the obviousness and seriousness of the situation, no attempt was made by the police to identify the culprits or call for help. In the following days, about fifteen people were arrested, including Flavia Perina, who would later become the director of Il Secolo d'Italia (The Century of Italy), and Andrea Insabato, who had previously carried out a gun attack on a PCI (Italian Communist Party) office in 1976 and a bombing at the Manifesto newspaper office in 2000. All of them were acquitted.

Four years after the events, some pentiti (former members of terrorist organizations cooperating with justice) named Alessandro Alibrandi and Cristiano Fioravanti as the material perpetrators of the murder. Cristiano Fioravanti, the brother of Giusva and a member of NAR (Armed Revolutionary Nuclei), confessed to participating in the action but denied being the shooter, placing the blame on Alibrandi. Alibrandi died in December 1981 in a shootout with the police before the trial. Fioravanti was acquitted with a final judgment in 2001. Walter Rossi's funeral was attended by a large crowd filled with anger over the ongoing and unpunished fascist crimes. On that day, there were more fascist attacks, with Patrizia D'Agostini, a worker and PCI militant, being injured. A revolt against fascist violence erupted in Rome and many other cities, resulting in assaults on fascist offices and clashes with the police. Walter Rossi's story fits into the context of bombings, assassinations, cover-ups, and conspiracies that characterized Italy's history from the P2 Masonic Lodge to Gladio, from attempted coups in the 1970s to the strategy of tension.

OCTOBER 7, 1949 - THE GERMAN DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC (DDR) IS ESTABLISHED

On October 7, 1949, the first state of workers and peasants in German history was established: the German Democratic Republic (DDR).

On October 11, Wilhelm Pieck, an eminent figure in the German and international communist movement, was elected President of the DDR.

This marked the birth of the STATE OF THE WORKERS on German soil.

THE TRUE FACE OF CAPITALISM

Philadelphia: people without homes and health insurance due to the crisis. This is the true face of capitalism that hides behind the Red Carpets of Hollywood and the lights of Times Square. This is the model that various politicians like Meloni, Schlein, Conte, Salvini want to lead us into.

RIGHT AND LEFT ARE TWO SIDES OF THE SAME COIN:

Completely subservient to major multinational corporations, the EU, NATO, and the USA.

HEARING THE PD TALK ABOUT WORK AND HEALTHCARE IS LAUGHABLE

The PD (Democratic Party), just like the center-right, has eliminated all workers' rights, even abolishing Article 18 in complete silence from the unions. Over the years, they have continued to privatize the Public Health System, dismantling it piece by piece, reducing it to a mere shadow. These policies have allowed the creation of the perception of a “catastrophe” during the years of COVID, which served to emphasize the pandemic itself and justify the subsequent repressive policies masquerading as anti-COVID measures, all under the usual Thatcherite cry of “there is no alternative”, presented as a salvific and humanitarian will. The only things that bourgeois parties have been capable of building are the induced crises that justify their stranglehold on the people, serving the interests of the financial aristocracy to which they answer. It's a real shame.

THE INFORMATION PROFESSIONALS

So-called information professionals are the ones who manipulate and censor news. The Honorary President of the Communist Party, Marco Rizzo, directly pointed this out to Mentana, who is the owner of Open, the online platform that arbitrarily censors news and posts deemed false and differing from NATO, EU, and USA propaganda.

CONTINUOUS EDUCATION AND INFORMATION

CONTACTS

The bourgeois regime structurally tends to close every space of visibility to proletarian organizations, reserving almost total control of the media to control thought through direct and indirect propaganda. For these reasons, it is crucial for the Party to develop its own autonomous information channels, building a direct channel of communication with the masses, and making the most of social networks. TO KNOW THE TRUE HISTORY OF COMMUNISM

It is important for every militant and sympathizer to cultivate their political education by acquiring the fundamental elements of the theory and history of the workers' and communist movement. This will provide useful reference points for developing a solid, critical, and dialectical thinking. It will also equip individuals with analytical skills to respond to the daily class struggle, which is also carried out in the cultural field by the bourgeoisie, enabling them to emancipate themselves from reactionary ideologies.

In this regard, the advice is to turn to the History of Communism, which can be downloaded for free (in PDF format) from the website. intellettualecollettivo.it and can be accessed in HTML format on the website Storiauniversale.it.

In particular, reference is made to Introduzione teorico-politica al marxismo-leninismo, A hundred pages useful to understand who we are and what we want beyond contingent tactical claims

JOIN THE PARTY

The Communist Party (PC) draws its strength from the many young people, workers, unemployed, and retirees who are part of it and who fight every day, promoting our ideas in schools, factories, and working-class neighborhoods. The change we want won't be handed to us by anyone; it can only come through the direct commitment of each of us. That's why it's necessary to take a step forward and support the Party by requesting a supporter card: by doing so, you will provide political, moral, and financial support to a revolutionary organization.

Given the context of increasingly blatant repression of civil rights and freedom of expression, with the more or less “subtle” censorship to which we are subjected by “liberal” totalitarianism, we invite you to contact us to subscribe for free to the newspaper, receiving it through a newsletter that is under construction. Subscribers are free to contribute financially, optionally and according to their own means, with a payment to the bank account with the following IBAN: IT4300306909606100000106305, made out to the Communist Party. The proceeds will be used to strengthen the newspaper. Our goal is to transform the online newspaper into a printed newspaper. However, first, we need to know how many people recognize the value of having a communist newspaper.

We therefore invite everyone to symbolically subscribe to the newspaper by sending an email with the subject “SUBSCRIPTION TO LA RISCOSSA - Last Name”.

Those who wish can send us letters (even signed under a pseudonym, if personal or work circumstances require it) indicating their consent or not for publication in future issues, for a possible column: READERS' CORNER.
